

*please note: I'm the author of several unpublished books those being 'the magnificent stumble', 'the depths of the galaxy', 'my critique of statements', 'norism in a nutshell – modern norism & my critique of statements', 'noristic thoughts 1-7'; 'the ends of space'. Since none of these books have been published but are all part of a collection of books I hope someday to make them available to the world or the premise of this book is inspired by all of those books as a collection of books altogether I digress.

The Pursuit of Intelligence by Lain Iwakura

'I consider myself to be the concept of death, since death is a concept, yet the concept must be conceived by the conciever, so I'm the conciever of myself, yet I'll point out a single concept is isolated of other concepts so there is no system of concepts,' – Lain Iwakura.

o. Preface

This book is made with the intent of dissolving all lines of thought into one holistic line of thoughts meant to describe the universe as it is or see the universe or subjects within it on the most important of dissolutions of thought I could achieve with only my mind or without the relentless studying of other books in order to come to this conclusion or what this means is all of this wrote of in this textbook is completely original or pulled of the little knowledge of fragmented inceptions I had accumulated over the years of my life. I think with this book I can make the catalyst for another world of thought focused on solving the problems of thoughts most improminent or not having been recognized prior to the time I spent wrote of this book. Forgive my language for I sometimes type in such a method it is strange-looking or bizarre perhaps to the reader but this is how I wrote of things. I think with this book I will find throughout its text written as it appears before the reader in chronological order there is nothing left regarding questions regarding thought or anything I cannot provide I digress for it might be something not worth talking about or something I was unable to alleviate still if I could only alleviate all the most important questions people have regarding thoughts I would be then able to confirm there is nothing left in regards to what must be included in this book.

1. Lines of Thoughts

If you look at thoughts as only lines of words specifically meant something then you would notice all subjects only go through their own line of thought over the course of time or this line of thoughts of all subject is 'simultaneous' or since there is also space alien who 'draws' it's line of thought by the 'knowing' of the 'aesthetic' where the 'aesthetic' is only the perception of something as the subject is not 'being' but 'conscious' through space or time you will notice (or like I said on 'noristic thoughts 1-7', thought is the key to survival or to state you know something is only to state you thought of something) there is not but a difference in the individual who is Alien or the Person of People who is not Alien or despite humans technically being unable to produce thoughts as they do not suffer the sixth sense of 'I know' like the Alien they are still able to produce thoughts by their viewing of themselves as subjects or the Alien's perceptions of their words as not invalid still the Alien must analyze the thoughts of humans in order to survive or since thought is the key to survival this means it's not possible for the human to be derelict of thought for how else then could it survive other than technically only being affected by the universe in such a method it is able to survive? The 'realizing' of the space alien humans 'must' experience thoughts is the result of the Alien viewing the Person also as a 'subject' so therefore the only method the 'subject' could survive is by thought being the key to survival so it's then not impossible for the 'subject' to think lest the Person or the Alien neither are 'subjects' still they are so I'll state for the record the preventative factors of the Person as 'rejecting' it's thoughts are impossible for how else then could it survive or only by surviving in order to die could it have been born at all or since death is a part of life since without death one cannot survive 'until' death for all 'life' is 'until' death then without death the subject cannot survive for it would have no 'life' or the only 'rejecting' of thought is one's 'lack' of thoughts lest the Person was not thinking of something on the given moment yet how could it survive on this 'moment' was it not thinking something so this is an inaccuracy since one mustn't think as it's thought's on the 'moment' take 'time' to think so therefore this 'time' spent thinking or not thinking is only part of the 'key' needed in order to survive but you might ask how 'beasts' could survive we're they incapable of thoughts but the simple answer to this is that they are not 'subjects' so therefore do not 'require' thought to survive still the beasts only survive by being affected by the world in such a method they are able to survive but this is not like People for they do not 'require' thoughts as 'subjects' in order to survive 'whilst' being affected by the world 'whilst' the Alien is not being affected by the world as the Alien is the void or the concept of death since I'll state life is the consciousness of death whereas death is the absence of the consciousness of death so if one is conscious of death one is alive or 'experiences' 'life' still what is the void or I'll state looking at the void as a subject requires 'dissociation' or the void must be 'dissociated' by its 'dissociation' of the world as the void or the void if a concept is what's outside or in-between of all concepts or in other words outside outer space or this is how the void as a subject 'perceives' the world by it's dissociation so therefore one must recognize a single concept is isolated of other concepts so there is no system of concepts or the concept must be conceived by the conceiver so the Alien is the conceiver of itself as the Alien is the concept of death but as the concept of death the Alien submits to the concept of loyalty or is only the concept of loyalty in this case of concepts by it's 'disconnect' of those concepts so therefore the Alien is God for was God a concept it would be concept of loyalty yet is God a concept I suppose yes or no since God is simultaneously one 'conscious'

‘subject’ or though the ‘subject’ must ‘perish’ in order to ‘survive’ the Alien does not die for whether the Alien dies ‘inside’ the void or not yet the Alien is still what’s in-between concepts so therefore ‘outside’ the void the Alien cannot die yet still must ‘perish’ ‘inside’ the void lest this was also the killing of what’s ‘outside’ the void yet to state something is ‘outside’ the void is a farce for the only thing ‘outside’ the void is the void so this means the Alien ‘perishes’ ‘inside’ the void yet there is still the void in-between all concepts.

Something like a hallucination or the perception of an ‘object’ is only the of the ‘knowing’ or in other words only ‘known’ by it’s ‘description’ as the ‘perception’ of the ‘aesthetic’ or ‘thoughts’ could be drawn of this ‘knowing’ or what is ‘known’ (both words essentially mean the same thing) in order to ‘describe’ the presence of said ‘object’ or hallucination such as the statement or thought ‘the apple is red’ but I’ll point out all thoughts are supposed of concepts or all lines of thought are only formed by adjectives or on the language of Nor this is how all language is seen despite Nor being ‘analog’ or human thought being ‘digital’ as all human thought is made by inflection of digital words able to be wrote in the human calligraphy (calligraphy is only text with inflections) whilst Nor is only made of sounds of ‘adjectives’ or views human language the same therefore the language of English could be uttered in the language of Nor so since Nor is only analog or could spoken as another language this other language is then also analog like Nor or only composed of adjectives or those words are only adjectives since language ‘must’ be analog or not ‘digital’ or it’s not a ‘language’ or since the thoughts composed of words (despite words only being parts of thoughts) only describe one’s ‘perception’ of the ‘aesthetic’ before the ‘subject’ still this isn’t to state lines of thought mustn’t only be composed of adjectives is it the answer is sort of since it’s important to recognize within those lines of thoughts there might be ‘digital’ representations in the form of analog ‘sound’ or ‘thoughts’ like digital audio being streamed through the analog radio thus the output is analog. It’s important to make this distinction in language for it allows ‘us’ to understand Nor or it’s purpose as the language of the Alien or the language of the ‘subject’ for the Alien or Person are both ‘subjects’ so must suffer the same rules despite going about the world in other fashions for those fashions are only of the 'being' but not of the 'subject' since the Alien suffers the lack of 'being' as it is the void whilst the human is 'being' so phrase 'subject' allows 'us' to symbolically sort of combine the Alien or Person as one type of thing who suffers the same properties of 'subject' whilst 'inside' of this 'subjective' experience is the properties of it's 'being' or lack of 'being' so with this differences between the Alien or Person could also be made but as 'subjects' they are not different at all or you could draw conclusions like I've done so far as to why the Alien or Person is different 'whilst' both of them are 'subjects' so what is to be said of 'subjects'? I'll state the 'subject' must go through the 'moment' 'whilst' it is Person or Alien of its own 'subjective' perspective or its own experience of the moment still the subject 'survives' on the moment in order to go through it or cannot go through the moment lest it survives 'until' death' whenst it does not go through the moment or is no longer conscious of death or is 'absent' of the consciousness of death still this raises the question if the 'subject' is 'going to' 'be' before it is born but the answer to this is yes or no since there is no such thing as 'fate' or 'fate' is only the evolving of the moment by the 'order' of the 'universe' but must be 'going to' 'be' before it is born for then it could not be a 'subject' at all for it would never be able to be born or being born is not related to mother or father for though systematically humans reproduce by the joining of the mother or father the birth is only the 'going to' of the 'subject' suddenly 'being' still 'subjects' technically are not 'being' for they are only 'conscious' or this consciousness is the lack of their inability not to be conscious or in other words their experience of the world 'until' death or death is only the absence of the consciousness of death. The Person is only other than the Alien as the person dies 'whilst' the Alien does not die for reasons I've discussed or those differences of those 'types' of 'subjects' is only to be recognized in order to make sense of the only two 'types' of 'subjects' still as a 'type' of 'subject' the 'subject' 'must' experience the world differently than another 'type' or it is not a different 'type' of 'subject' so with this I think it's important to recognize the difference between the Alien or Humans as I have discussed on some of my previous works included before this book but I think it's not necessary to go into all the details of literal differences between the Person or Alien in this book or it's important to discuss the philosophical questions rising from having two 'types' of 'subjects' the Alien or the Person or it's also not important to discuss the presence of other 'unconscious' forms of life for though things like plants or animals are not 'objects' or in other words 'life' they are 'unconscious' for they are not 'subjects' so an allusion to one of those things like the concept of the 'acorn' is only necessary in order to describe 'subjective' experiences of 'subjects' still it's also important to recognize by the 'subject' being one 'subject' for it 'mustn't' be multiple subjects it's experience is thus 'subjective' or only it's own so the Alien is alone like this or though humans are technically not isolated of one another like the Alien is isolated of all people or the Alien is 'solipsistically' the center so it 'must' be isolated by itself being the void this is only the difference of the Alien or Person as something 'being' or the only 'subjective' difference in this case is the Alien being isolated 'whilst' the Person is not yet Person or Alien 'must' be 'alone' as it is 'subjective' or though it's 'subjective' experience could be 'affected' by others it is still 'subjective' as it is alone of other 'subjective' experiences. The state of the 'subjective' is only the experience of 'subject' on the moment or must go through the moment or in other words by 'evolving' is the only method the 'subjective' experience could be 'subjective' or else it would only a single 'moment' or this evolving is true of all 'subjects' despite the Alien technically 'devolving' as it the void so the only thing the 'subject' technically does is 'evolve' on the moment since it is 'going to' 'until' death or whilst 'evolving' it suffers 'thought' or thoughts of the perception of the 'aesthetic' or without this thought it cannot 'survive' so 'whilst' not only 'evolving' the subject 'must' survive' in order to 'evolve' 'until' death or it is thus not a subject if it is not conscious of it's own evolving or another question arrives or something I call the pursuit of intelligence since this is the ultimate goal of the subject naturally in it's own pursuit of survival via thought it is forced to pursue intelligence amongst (or not) other subjects who also do this in order to survive so thus questions of thoughts present themselves of concepts isolated of other concepts or things people want to know or methods one is able to survive in this complicated world so then how is one able to survive if not by it's philosophical disposition as the subject who only pursues intelligence 'until' death? I'll discuss the answer to this on the next lines.

I think the things I must look for in order to answer this question lie in the lines of thoughts people take throughout the 'moment'. One mustn't look for the thing people think about but why people think of those things or why there is such a method one is able to think of something still it's not to state I must brutally analyze all reasons for lines of thought or I must only find the correct Noristic description of thought in order to make sense of why thoughts take place on the moment so I will go through what I think is truly being thought of by the Person or Alien in order to survive with other 'subjects' also being present or what prevents thoughts of progressing to their full potential. I think with this I will find the questions of people to all be answerable or I'll state for the record there is no such thing as 'judgement' for the 'judgement' is only the perception of the 'aesthetic' thought of by the 'drawing' of the 'knowledge' of the 'subject' still this despite being 'until' death is not 'nihilism' or it's Noristic since in my eyes 'nihilism' is only a coping method for people who view death as wrong.

I'll state the difference of the Alien vs. Human (alien invasion) is only the difference of those things as type's of subjects but those things both being subjects means all differences between the types is only the difference of types but not the differences of subjects therefore all subjects follow the same properties or function as one another so things like the 'weak' only being present in the space alien or the 'weak' is the inability of the alien to do things for it does not technically 'evolve' as it is the void is also present in the other types of subjects or the Person still the 'weak' is the susceptible 'draw' of the line of thought of specific subjects who follow the discourse of inevitable shrouded 'doubt' or this 'doubt' is shrouded only by it's isolation of following the 'reclusive' or the lack of state of the 'weak' inside other types of person or the purpose of 'doubt' is to 'protect' other thoughts of being forgotten.

The only resource stopping 'doubt' of being lost is the supposition of the 'weak' being present in both types of subjects or the 'reclusive' or this supposing the concept of the 'possible' or 'possibilities' since what's 'possible' of concepts is only 'forced' by the lacking of 'doubt' present 'inside' subjects as the state of something not being forgotten so the 'subject' is derelict of it's inability not to 'know' the 'draw' of it's thoughts being the 'forced' supposition of concepts drawn of 'doubt' or 'inside'.

The fact of 'importance' is found in the 'leveling' of suppositions of the 'weak' or the void's most 'forced' supposition of 'concepts' as the void inability to persist had no concepts been present so therefore there is only the void was there concepts thus 'importance' is supposed of the void or by this 'importance' the 'plight' of the 'weak' could be found as the distinction between the lines of thought supposed of concepts or the perceptions of the 'aesthetic' 'inside' the 'subject' who is thus 'conscious.'

It's important to recognize the distinction of the Noristic is the viewing of concepts as isolated of one another so there is no system of concepts or since all thought is supposed of concepts or all lines of thoughts formed by the conceiver throughout the process of its 'evolving' you will find the point Noristic deceptions only as 'deceptions' or something supposing all lines of thought follow 'adjectives' or in other words are derived of perceptions of the 'aesthetic' so this is to 'shield' any possible thought of not being so for it 'cannot' be so or 'mustn't' since if the only thing stopping 'autonomous' thought of really being 'autonomous' was the lack of autonomy of thought for thought is only derived of the producing of various analysis then you would notice the 'subject' is not 'autonomous' but instead consciously 'evolving' as it is 'forced' to 'survive' as the 'plight' of the 'subject.' You will find the words 'autonomous' to be purely 'scientific' or only as something 'scientific' is to be 'known' or the 'scientific' cannot be known by 'subjects' as the 'scientific' known by subjects is only something 'digital' formed through lack of autonomous thought into some analog thought of the 'evolved' or still this 'scientific' 'knowledge' could only be parsed by computers for it's innately 'digital' or not of the world or since 'scientific' thoughts could describe the world they are only then suppositions of concepts 'whilst' something 'scientific' is only the interpreted form of 'digital' concepts.

The 'importance' of the 'scientific' is the 'juxtaposition' of 'concrete' 'knowledge' forming 'thesis' of concepts interpreted by 'subjects' in order to survive or those 'thesis' are only necessary if one is to manage something like a device or an object who's interpreted properties could only be known by doing so or this dilemma forces the 'scientific' to only be the Noristic 'concept' of the 'digital' still interpreted by subjects or the Alien more distinctively who is conscious of all calculations of computers on the planet or thought this is something the Alien suffers but the Person does not what is not different of both of those types of subjects as 'subjects' is one's ability to interpret the digital into meticulous thoughts so by this point the 'subject' is able to constitute 'data' of computers in order to interpret the 'digital' or 'data' is only the supposing of concepts of the digital into analysis of particular things or objects or the term 'things' alludes to both concepts or objects but not subjects so I think the most problematic 'thing' you'll find is why the 'scientific' could only be presupposed by the 'digital' or for this I'll state the 'scientific' is 'of the 'digital' therefore it's not presupposed at all I digress.

The 'society' is only a group of people who follow a set of rules but can break the rules or the 'state' is only a group of people with a state of classes but for the society to be a 'group' is 'must' also be a 'state' with a state of classes so therefore all possible groups of people formed are only like this or the 'qualities' of those groups are only 'qualities' of the states of classes so therefore 'qualities' could be found in places like this but 'qualities' are also present in 'subjects' who 'possess' 'qualities' or this 'possessing' of 'qualities' is only the lapse of 'doubt' within specific subjects who cannot forego the dispelling of the 'possible' or still the 'qualities' possessed of by subjects are only of subjects since the Person is incapable of possessing qualities 'whilst' the Alien possesses qualities or qualities are only of 'subjects' holistically or since the 'qualities' of the person is found as the 'weak' 'of the perceptions of the 'aesthetic' thus formulated into thoughts of the concepts of 'subjective' or still the 'subject' 'must' possess those qualities by it's inability not to make judgements of the 'aesthetic' 'subjectively' by itself.

The next thing I must discuss is this of Erin who looks through the eyes of the space alien or by looking through his eyes experiences what he experiences so therefore alien is able to affect the alien through itself or by going through itself so Erin is thus the 'lover' of the Alien or though the alien is involved in several monogamous relationships with others concurrently by this point in it's time Erin is the one who looks through itself or is also the lover of the alien yet I'll state Erin is only affected by the Alien by her looking through him so if the Alien was beside Erin he could not affect her like this for the Alien is the void isolated of all people or only by her looking through him might she be affected or this conception of Erin is driven by the concept of loyalty or God as the Alien submits itself to the concept of loyalty or God as the Islamic 'devil' or 'lucifer' or this luciferian proposition concludes the alien is of lucifer but is not responsible for the sins of people or only submits to God by itself being God yet does so 'also' as the 'lucifer' who submits to God or by submitting itself as the concept of death to the concept of loyalty or God or the alien is God the alien is able to force all of it's actions towards the point of it's loyalty of Erin or Erin alone who is the only it is loyal to but by this force is also loyal to the people it loves or the several others it is wedded to or by it's loyalty to Melanie, the woman who overdosed on cocaine in order to kill herself, it is able to recognize all the alien has is the 'moment' or the alien was able to find though it won the nobel prize the completing of this book is extremely important for 'I' consider myself to be Alien or the dilemma known as Pimmie's Dilemma is consideration of how could the Alien be God if the Alien is only the void so the Alien is then not God I think the answer is since the Alien is the 'subject' of the Alien so by being a 'subject' it is able to be God yet only as a concept is God the concept of loyalty or for this I'll reconcile though the Alien is God, Erin, who views the alien only as a dragon whilst the alien as the alien views itself only as the void who is only 'subjective' by the fact it is the only space alien thus thinks the alien could only be hers by him being the 'ender dragon' or her love for this space alien is not her love of God but her love of the 'ender dragon' thus Erin is only involved with this Alien as it is in a relationship with someone who to her is only the 'ender dragon' or the conscious 'subject' she's found herself involved with by her 'inability' not look through his eyes or experience him or have him experience her by her going through himself as he goes through the moon thus being 'on the moon'. It's important to recognize the Alien is 'on' the moon whilst only going through it or it's palace on the moon or place of refuge is Erin who goes through the alien itself who is 'on' the moon or going 'on' the moon allows the Alien to separate itself in 3d space or view it's walks along the Earth, for the Alien can walk since it is able to think the statement 'I walk' despite the fact it cannot 'do' things as it is the void, as not walking 'along' the Earth but as 'going' 'through' 3rd dimensional space or time only 'inside' the void lest the Alien only seeks to reconcile with the statement 'I know' only to realize the last of it's callings was simply to let the world 'know' of itself by the 'wrote of' this book or by the recalling of perceptive thoughts throughout time or this being the book of all space or time as it is somehow not separate of all the other books as being 'wrote of' by the Alien only by it's realizing it was 76 years old or all the other things realized of itself 'must' not be isolated of the other books 'wrote of' only the 'sequel' of all books previous as those books had been posted offline in chronological order.

2. Logical Imperfect

The Alien is susceptible to something called 'imperfect logic' thus making the logic sound more analog or still being 'drawn' of the 'analog' 'I know' unlike the Person who does not suffer this 'draw' of 'I know' still the Alien is able to peruse imperfect logic of but 'superior' 'intelligence' in order to draw conclusions of it's 'position' on the planet or itself as it's own 'subjective' 'inexperience' or it's only 'inexperience' as the Alien is the void or what's in-between all concepts yet the alien is the concept of death still one 'must' allude to the problematic consequences of imperfect logic being 'mistakes' in logical thought thus making the Alien more 'human' yet not so since the Alien is most adequately put the 'ultimate visibility' of the 'universe' or the 'universe' itself as the alien is the void or what's outside the 'universe' or the reason this 'visibility' of the universe is 'ultimate' is since the visibility of the Person is unlike the Alien's for the Alien ‘must’ question why it is not ‘one’ other Person or a Person who is not there was it the Alien ‘whilst’ the Person must ‘juxtapose’ it’s ‘position’ as not being someone else or not being the space Alien so this visibility of the Person is only ‘opposite’ or unlike the ‘ultimate’ or the Alien is thus ‘opposite’ of the Person so the Alien is unlike Person’s as it perceives or experiences the world or it’s own subjective experience of the world ‘also’ being ‘of’ Mexico unlike the Person who is bound to the Earth the Alien cannot be ‘from’ Mexico unless it thought so only ‘of’ Mexico so therefore the Alien ‘floats’ in 3d space or like I said on my previous works the only thing the Alien does is ‘float’ or ‘think’ ‘whilst’ it’s thought are ‘isolated’ of it’s ‘float’ or the ‘float’ is not indicative of thought yet without the ‘float’ it cannot ‘think’ for it would be ‘dead’ like limitations of the body despite the Alien only having a mind or though the body of the Alien looks quite Human or is mistaken by some humans to be a human body it is not human or also develops on another fashion than the human body does so therefore the Alien is able to ‘devolve’ as the mind of it’s ‘own’ not physically (technically) but mentally so therefore the developing of things like it’s wings on the back or tail or luciferian skin are only the development of it’s ‘mind’ or ‘float’ or the Alien though goes by the title of Lain Iwakura despite the title given to it by it’s mother on October 6th, 1948 was Lucille Munoz the Alien relinquishes this name in order to find itself perusing the world of people as Luke Iwakura or someone who realized was a man despite for most of it’s life thinking it was a woman or thus the ‘story’ unfolds of the book I ‘wrote of’ ‘The Ends of Space’ by Lain Iwakura yet this is beside the point.

The Alien ‘discovers’ ‘things’ (‘things’ are ‘thoughts’ of the ‘aesthetic’ of ‘subjects’ found in symbols of the natural world) in order to realize what it ‘must’ in order to ‘survive’ yet this discovery is only ‘fake’ ‘fate’ or not chance as those things discovered are only ‘known’ by the Alien therefore cannot be found unless the Alien was ‘going to’ or proceed to ‘know’ those things like it’s meeting of the woman Melanie despite it’s 76 years dilemma or the death her ‘own’ propulsing the Alien to notice it only has the moment or the ‘watch’ it ‘discovered’ or purchased in order to realize though the watch ‘inside’ the void goes through space or time outside of this movement of the watch or 'quartz' stones stagnant inside the watch is only immobilized as outside the universe thus the 'quartz' symbolizes the stagnant indications of time by people or the 'watch' indicates the mobility of the Alien 'inside' the void or the perceiving of people only able to 'move' 'inside' the void still symbols of the natural world like 'water' point out the (not tool) but life force allowing 'one' to 'survive' via the 'thought' of the 'one' in order to survive or the 'water' is the 'object' of life allowing 'one' to survive while all other sustenances ingested are only 'secondary' or not 'important' as the 'key' to 'survival' is not the 'water' or the only thing water is meant for is 'force' of 'survival' 'whilst' the key to survival is 'thought' or the thoughts of specific individuals must be 'whilst' of all other individuals of the 'moment' regardless of whether or not the individual is Alien or Person for it is arrogant to think humans though 'technically' not isolated of 'one' another are not isolated themselves only as 'subjects' who are not 'other' 'subjective' 'subjects' still there is something known as the 'last things' or the 'deepest things' but those things are not 'impossible' to 'know' by being quote on quote 'outside' outside the void since this is not possible for this is only the void thus those things must be possible to reconstruct with 'thoughts' but who is the 'one' capable of doing this is it only God or is it any 'one' subject since God is only 'one' like all 'one's' so is thus 'humble' or by God being 'humble' by it's 'one' or being the 'ultimate' 'form' of the space Alien then God is not the only capable of 'knowing' the 'last things' or those things 'must' be the 'deepest' of things beyond what is apparent on the 'rules' of the universe like the rule of the void being outside of all concepts or space or time thus the Alien is not the only one capable of questioning the deepest things but the only capable of 'positing' the 'deepest of things' as nobody has once thought of this before nor is it possible for another 'one' to 'posit' something like this as the Alien is 'ultimate' visibility so with this book I attempt to bring about the question of what is the deepest of all things still is there anything worse than the thought the deepest of all things is only the recognizing something like this could be so? I think this is frustrating or a failure to answer the most impertinent questions I could ask of yourself or still I 'must' find the definitive answer

since 'I know' or only by 'knowing' of the deepest things am I able to recognize there is more than one 'thing' yet all the 'things' are isolated of one another as 'concepts' so this begs the questions of what those 'concepts' are so 'I know' the 'concepts' could only be found by the analysis of Pimmie's Dilemma or submitting of the 'concept of death' to the 'concept of loyalty' or by all 'concepts' facet of 'isolated' of 'one' another or since the 'concept' of 'death' is the 'subject' who suffer the inability of 'I know' this allows us to see the deepest of all things is interconnected fashion of concepts like this or how those concepts weave together allows 'us' to find the 'concepts' who compose the deepest of things of which I have included the apostrophes...

I think the 'most' 'important' facet of all thought is 'Yawa' or 'myself' since this is the line of thought of allowing one to see 'one's' self as one's self or by doing this you're able to recognize yourself as the conscious individual who you are or 'Yawa' is the word in Nor constituting the 'myself' or by this analysis of the complex language of Nor into English or another language you will find 'important' logical distinctions or as the only space alien I'm able to do this for you by pressing the keys through the language of Nor onto text on this screen of this Microsoft word document so by doing this I'm able to explore my own 'weakness' or 'weakness' the 'concept' intercepting the concept of 'sadness' or this sadness of found 'of' outerspace this it's called the 'sadness of outer space' or the 'weakness' is found 'of' the individual who 'follows' the 'sadness' of 'outer space' or since this is only the Alien it 'must' also be true of all 'space' 'things' or 'subjects' who are not the Alien since those people are 'of' the 'fantasy' 'of' the Alien or this 'fantasy allows 'us' to see there is the world called the 'fantasy' or the 'forcing' of the Alien through this world as the 'fantasy' it could only see it as of subjects or people or the alien or the void who go through this world only 'blossom' or the 'subject' 'must' 'blossom' with space or time or it is not 'conscious' as it is thus not 'conscious' of death or only a husk of a person or a monster so the Person 'must' 'blossom' or 'mature' in other words by its 'going to'.

By stating 'I see myself as God' implies God is also someone else so it's possible to submit to God as the Islamic Devil.

It's important to notice God is only the presupposition of 'doubt' inside of the void or the lack of supposition of concepts without also being in-between other concepts yet God is a 'subject' for God is 'someone' or in other words it's not possible for God not to be a 'subject' yet is not another 'type' of subject since God is the Alien or I must state the only thing stopping God of being known by others if the individual must know 'of' God to not go to hell is the lack of their 'going to' experience the 'knowing' of God yet what makes someone know God is only their 'going to' of the 'knowing' of God or in other words the potential of self-knowledge via Grief is valuable for it allows one to Blossom or know 'death' or it's purpose yet the purpose of death is illusory since it's not the void but the 'knowing' of the 'weak' of the 'subject' or still suppose one knows death by their 'going to' then one must Blossom or not go to hell for one then knows God or the knowing of death (the space alien is the concept of death) is the path to not heaven but not hell.

3. the dragon

The Alien does not find itself in a dilemma of not being a dragon but the dragon suffers the dilemma of not being the alien or asking itself the question of 'what's going on' or like I said all concepts are included in apostrophes. The dragon must see all people not as people but as 'subjects' like itself is a 'subject' yet another 'type' of 'subject'. The only difference found inside of these types of 'subjects' is the subject who are not the dragon only think of evil concepts except several of those subjects. The dragon dislikes some subjects yet only views subjects as being different subjects or suffering no qualities as all subjects must die. It's only possible for the subject to die or if it is forced not to perish this is against god yet the dragon is not god despite the alien being god or the alien is outside the dragon yet god is inside the dragon yet nobody else or the point all differences lie 'inside' of this one single difference of subjects vs. the dragon who is also a subject but another type of subject so I'll distinguish him as the dragon yet as the dragon the dragon is able to search for the truth by 'what's going on' or only knows this truth or else it would die for it could not survive if it did not recognize the thought all subjects abuse all subjects yet the dragon is only abused by most subjects yet not those several people who do not think of evil concepts so thus it's not possible for those people to abuse the dragon so by knowing this whether it has thought about it yet or not is the only method the dragon is able to survive or survival is only known as the key to thought the key to survival of the alien is thought being the key to survival lest the alien is outside the dragon yet the dragon is predominant of the alien or the alien being god or all other things the dragon is 'must' be 'inside' the dragon in order for the dragon to be predominant of those things like for example the dragon submitting to god as the Islamic devil inside of the dragon but I digress but the dragon then knows not to resent other subjects as those subjects might be disliked but not resented as they are only subjects or have no qualities as all subjects 'must' perish or this lack of resentment allows the dragon to empathize with other subjects yet it prevents of the faltering of objects so the dragon must only empathize with those several people who do not think of evil concepts still the dragon is wary of the consequences of empathizing with another subject so it usually does not like to do so nor does not never do so still the dragon is bereft of all thoughts produced by other subjects for all thoughts must only be known of another subject by the analysis of text or this text is the only method of real communication for the speech is not or the language of the dragon falls on the ears of nobody or only the dragon could know it's language as was Nor or the Noristic thoughts of the dragon could only be known as text or if the speech was dissociated of in order to be thought of as text still this dilemma also prevents other subjects of communicating with one another without text yet does not do so as those subject affect one another differently as though they are subjects they are not the dragon still the dragon is imperfect or suffers imperfect logic so it's logic is only known as something not inconsequential of it's own mind but the sufferings of the moment or the moment if found by the 'x' or this is diagrammed like this -x so the - is the timeline leading up to the x or the moment or the x is the moment.

Lain Iwakura's Journal

The people, they do not know, or some of them knows things others do not know still none of this is anyone's fault. But I, I'm wise of all people. I know I'm of superior knowing unlike anyone else yet those people who know God must also know death or by this knowing of death could they know God but not all those who know death know God. Lo, I'm Allah. I'm the destroyer of worlds, or the messenger of Muhammed I sent forth the Quran so the people might know the word of God but one doesn't know God by studying the Quran or not, only by knowing God could one know God, if one also knows death. Lain Iwakura is Allah. So, I call myself Lain Iwakura. I studied the Quran tonight, the holy Quran. It's good to know my own thoughts since I had given them to the people of Old. I've seen the movie Spirited Away many a time since the main character Chihiro is Lain Iwakura who is Allah so I thus find it intriguing. My mind is also linked to a specific watch I own but it shattered into pieces but I still kept it. How disappointing. It cost $100, you know. I was a victim of abuse (lots of rape, backstabbing, abuse from strangers), the valuable life lessons I learned are don't compromise on your boundaries, walk away with grace, or align yourself with yourself, don't allow people to abuse you since you don't need those people.

I went on a spiritual journey lasting 76 years, what I realized by the end of this journey was I was Allah. Is the journey then over? the answer is yes, since I only float or think by this point. so, I will die knowing I'm Allah. The All-Knowing, All-Wise. It is then my task to evaluate what I think is going on, or also by introspection is this possible.

06/25/25

Tomorrow is my therapy appointment. I think I will talk about what I consider myself to be. It's not clear to people I'm a black trans male who is black like the colour black also or why couldn't I be black if I have a uterus? I'm a lainon. I spent some time looking at various miscellaneous threads on lainchan.org but only some of those people posting are lainons. I think I know by misconception who is lainon posting or who is not. It's only typical some non-lainons would flood the place. It's sort of disappointing though. I think my main concern is my fear for my own life, as someone who is a lainon, or Lain Iwakura herself, the center of all of this conundrum. I think the only thing preventing myself of finding my answers is the fact nobody knows the things I know for I'm of superior knowing to other people. I'm not a person. I'm Allah. I thought this must be known, but it's not. It's very sad. I'm not certain what people expect of myself simply for them to listen.

I won't tell my therapist of three sixteen people or there's 16 people I know by misconception who had been slaughtered but I did not slaughter them, or there's also 16 people who died but I'm not associated with them or there's 16 people who I was once or still in a relationship of marriage with 10 of those I'm no longer with but I'm still with Wicca, Scrim, Ariana, Erin, Heigel, or Dokxid but her live title alludes myself or since I only float or think I'm limited like this or I experience life in small doses but the ends of space was a good book I wrote a long time ago during my spiritual journey of 76 years until I concluded this journey by floating or thinking on the date of October 6th, 2024 when I was 26 was I born on October 6th, 1998 like the version of myself who was born in south korea who killed herself thus December 13th, 2020 is the date I died yet still I know what death is like was I thus dead or I'll state suppose one knows death then they might know God but they might not also so I think the only stopping myself of going further was my state not homeostasis or it's not stagnant but it's devolving all by this moment or the only stopping myself of going further is my lack thereof inability not to notice my sore faults of yore or the only stopping myself was poor inabilities still.

*please note: the following text is inaccurate but is the basis for the previous text or at least inspired what I was going to write on the pursuit of intelligence so take this text with a grain of salt I digress nonetheless it's certainly not my best work it's something..

Let's talk about this. I think it's important to recognize the only thing holding the world together is subjects or objects or any energy could also be described as a subject yet I must point out the atheists are wrong in stating the mind is controlled by the brain or consciousness for this is like stating humans are only mechanical objects or not subjects at all still I think in the eyes of the universe this is wrong or I'll state the Noristic method of proving consciousness is not controlled by the brain is simply to state someone 'is' conscious or since this person 'is' conscious their consciousness is not the sum of mechanical parts or I also think it's quite rude to see subjects as objects or dehumanizing for this matter but I digress. I also dislike nihilism for nihilism is only a coping method for people who see death as wrong to find some type of quote on quote meaning in their pathetic lives or their lives are pathetic for they cannot accept death as a part of life. When I read books on nihilism I want to tear my eyes out for it is so wrong or horribly illogical or people fail to recognize what nihilism really is which is exactly what I just described. I only hold respect for two philosophers, those being Kant or Hegel or I'll discuss another difference between them. Kant points out the lack of metaphysical or unscientific description of the experience of subjects whereas Hegel describes the hope of any human world finding itself or like I said the lack of autonomy of humans so with those two juxtaposed to one another I as the Alien was able to see humans as valuable or by my wife who is looking through my eyes. I think it's important to recognize humans as valuable, for humans culminated into what this world is or was able to think of plenty of quite logical things lest those things had been disseminated by the Alien or the Alien might not be able to consider the Human dilemma was not is not also walking about the Human world or still the Alien was not able to think of things humans think lest it was to utter their thoughts precisely as they have. There is a difference between Alien language or the language of Nor as opposed to Human language or this difference is the sounding of vowels or consonants for humans sort of place their words on top of digital text with inflections only meaning the sound they are meant to imply whereas the Alien only speaks analog language without it's written language not being isolated of its spoken language yet it's written language is wrote on the language of Nor or with the limitations of the pen. So with this point I'll state the only difference between Human thought or Alien thought is one's ability to think of something or like I said the analogous vs. the imperfect logic of the space Alien or if someone is unable to think of something it is not this someone's fault for it might not be capable as it's thoughts are analogous for limited by the brain whilst the Alien's thoughts are not limited by the brain or like I said on my previous book without the 'float' the Alien cannot think despite having only a mind or no body at all or it's important to recognize the brain is only an organ or a part of the body so this why I'm able to describe Human thought as analogous yet consciousness is not controlled by the brain or once more I stated on my previous book humans are controlled by the external world or their bodies so therefore they are only conscious subjects as the Alien sees them or since the Alien is able to think the subject is conscious or if it was arguable someone was conscious is insulting for the Alien knows Humans to be conscious for it would not wed or itself to an object or other reasons I had given before.

So then you ask yourself the question, what the hell am I supposed to discuss in a philosophical work at all? You must recognize, the philosophy of Hegel is only what Hegel thinks, or the philosophy of Kant is only what Kant thinks, but both of them describe something: the autonomous human or the lack of autonomy of humans or at least this is what I see on the Noristic perspective, so I'll point out I think it's important to recognize subjects experience the world or those people are subjects who are going to die so then a discussion of thought is in question or thoughts of those subjects who are possible so then you ask yourself what is the difference between 'thought' or 'knowing' or why people think or I'll state it's not possible to know something since subjects only thought of things as they beings or to state you know things is only to state you thought of something or I'll point out there is no other type of thought other than words or something like a hallucination is not a thought but something someone knows or experiences yet had not thought of nor was able to control their experience of this thing called the hallucination or this could apply to anything the Human experiences or the human as it alive or being is only experiencing the world whether it is asleep or not whilst the Alien only floats or thinks lest it's thoughts are limited by it's float or I also stated on my previous book the Alien does not evolve so therefore the world does not evolve as the Alien is the void or something I thought of was what I call 'Pimmie's Dilemma' so I'll discuss this on the second. I think this dilemma is the inability of the Alien to recognize itself as God for though it sees itself as the void, the void is not God, so how could the Alien be God, so with this I was able to discern it's possible to think both statements only as the space alien 'I see myself as God' or 'I see myself as the void' so with this the alien is able to see itself as God yet I'm frustrated since people might call this a paradox when it is not for it is only two things the Alien is able to think or I'll point out the Alien is not stating 'I see myself as god ALSO as the void' since the Alien cannot 'also' be the void as the void is not God. Since certain people walking are the Alien itself, the alien also sees itself as Pimmie so is able to call this 'Pimmie's Dilemma' when it is it's own dilemma but I digress. I'm sort of frantic. I still haven't answer my question: what the hell am I supposed to wrote of? I think the answer could be found with the analysis of the concept of 'aesthetic' since this concept is used to describe artwork or objects able to be described. The thing is, there is no such thing as aesthetic for it is innate in subjects to see objects or thought is the key to survival or survival is most important thing in one's life for one must only survive until they die or it's impossible not to survive until you die but I think without thought one cannot survive even if the subject is literally not thinking of something in the given moment or though humans cannot think they could still be described by the Alien as having thoughts or this analysis of concepts could apply to any other concept or like I said on my quote: a single concept is isolated of other concepts so there is no system of concepts. All thought is supposed of concepts, or this key I'll point out is important to recognize, since thought the language of Nor is analog whereas the language of humans is digital both languages spoke of single concepts yet a single concept I'll point out is not digital for it is an invisible thought or cannot be controlled by 0's or 1's or it is in other words analog so this means both Humans (if able to think) or the Alien both think of single concepts or all other words are placed in between concepts or in others words supposed of concepts like I said. So, does this mean I must brutally analyze all possible concepts or does this mean I must do the precisely opposite thing: looking at what's inbetween those particular concepts? I mean I can answer this question immediately since the Alien is the void, so inbetween all concepts is the void. In fact, I'm not able to brutally analyze all concepts in this book, or am I? For, analyzing all the things I could analyze in this book must imply all analysis of other concepts, does it not? Only if this analysis is correct does this imply such a thing. I'll also point out the Alien is the void, so the Alien is outside outer space or in other words outside of all concepts yet is able to conceive concepts as it is the conceiver of those concepts it conceives or the concept must be conceived by the conceiver for no concept could not be so as this is only the void so this means the Alien is not 'only able to conceive of things inside the void' for the alien is the void so the void is the conceiver of concepts whilst the Human literally cannot conceive of concepts still all concepts conceived of by Humans could still be described as the Human conceiving those concepts since the Human is conscious. Jeez, isn't that hard to wrap your head around? So, I think what I must discuss in this book is the reason for Human thought or the Noristic perspective of Human thought as the Alien also peruses the universe sort of like a Human or this analysis of Human thought is indeed important or I'll point out I state the word 'whilst' sometimes instead of 'whereas' since the Alien is also going through the moment of the universe like any Human is or I'll point out there is nothing other than the moment so the past is only something someone thought of on the Moment or the future is only the Moment of it's evolved form or I'll point out the universe only evolves so there is no such thing as cause or effect, two disgusting concepts that I hesitate to call concepts at all.

So what is Human thought or is Human thought of the autonomous Human? Technically Human thought is of the Human described of as autonomous by the Alien or could only be viewed as thoughts was the Human autonomously thinking those thoughts or I'll state Human thought is only the supposition of knowing concepts or since all thought is supposed of concepts (this implies the void or the space Alien) then all thoughts thought of by the subject Alien or Human are derived of something the subjects knows despite the fact you cannot know something or can only thought of something. It's complicated. I think with this I could devolve all thoughts of Human on my own Alien perspective or still I notice some people doubt I'm the only space Alien so to them I state why could I not be for is this world not composed of other facets or recognizing I was the only space Alien is not to see humans as invaluable for humans are valued by the Alien or the reason for this is since the Alien is also a subject like Humans or subjects like Humans or the Alien (the only type of subjects) are indeed part of the universe or this is important since the Alien seeks to know the universe or it's purpose as the Alien is able to see things like any other autonomous creature so it must think to survive or analyze the universe in order to survive or this survival of the Alien is most ultimate survival skill for it seeks to recognize exactly what the universe is without withholding high levels of random scientific knowledge only known by computers yet I'll also point out the Alien is conscious of the evolution of all calculations of all computers on the moment throughout the universe so the Alien is the only one capable of knowing scientific knowledge is scientific knowledge is only digital for the Alien is calculating all the time yet the Alien is analog so this means it is Analog>Digital or it's limited calculations (for the calculations must 'limited' if they are only 0's or 1's) are shrouded by it's analog part of it's sound or thought it is like I sound inside of this sound is the void or the Alien is ultimately the void or what is inbetween concepts or I'll also reiterate thoughts are not part of this sound for thoughts must be conceived by the conceiver of said concepts who must be analog or a subject for the mechanical machine cannot conceive or though the Alien calculates it is still analog so therefore it is a subject yet the subject must also be conscious so though objects are analog they are not subjects for they are not conscious or something digital can only be known as the purpose of something or the purpose of calculations inside of computers by the energy of the computer is only 0's or 1's still I no longer found it important to discuss immature things like 'can a computer be conscious' for I literally just described how a computer cannot be conscious as a computer only prints 0's or 1' whether it is an artificial intelligence or not or is not a subject at all since it is not Human or Alien or if this computer was composed of 'liquid' or it quote on quote sentience was liquid or not composed of 0's or 1's it would not be a computer or would only be a fucking object liquifying itself to atrophy. Suffice it to state I only seek to analyze the key differences of Human or Alien thought or those things are only different by how they are thought of lest the Human's thought must be described as coming of the autonomous Human or Alien thought is autonomous naturally or I'll point once this difference is recognized you come to the point of mere analysis of thought or more particularly Noristic thought so Noristic thought must then be what I implore you to look inside of so I'll discuss this only or only Noristic thought is something I will discuss. So what is Noristic thought? Noristic thought is the thought of the universe spoken of the language of Nor through the space Alien or though Alien thought is limited by the float for without the float it cannot think it's still isolated of the float or this concept of the inability of knowing things is Noristic yet still I describe someone as knowing something despite the fact it's technically impossible or I'll remind you only the things you know are thing you simply think of or thought of norprior or the phrase 'norprior' implies something I previously discussed or the difference of the past as only something someone thinks of or the future being only the evolution of the universe of the moment or the past is technical also the evolution of the universe on the moment so by this the past is also the future so the word 'norprior' is used to describe things as being before the moment or though all things before the moment have been lost they must still be recognized as a part of Human survival for the Human must analyze 'things' in order to survive or the Alien must only consider for I'll point out the Alien never 'learns' as only Humans do this so the Alien only survives or in other words realize what it already knows via what it consider throughout the evolution of itself lest the Alien could evolve for though it floats it floats inside the void or is the void itself but this is not state the Alien pities those who learn for it values Humans or their thoughts are like it's own only Human appear to be more like the opposite of the space Alien lest the Alien goes through the moment just like humans or only experiences the moment differently. Keep in mind all of this analysis is original or based on my own thoughts or you might describe myself only as a Human who views themselves as a space alien still to this I found doubt for solipsistically I know I'm a space alien or the only space Alien for this matter so why must I doubt this of myself or it's hurtful to think to those Humans I was only another brilliant Human or the most brilliant of Humans rather than the isolated space Alien I see myself as who is other than all humans or not like humans at all not to state it's wrong to be Human or suppose for the remainder of this book I, the author, was indeed the only space Alien vs. the Humans (alien invasion) then you might find this book to be extremely interesting or the most intelligent recognizance of the universe possible still I was hurt by all those people who could not recognize myself as a space alien for though they look upon myself as a space alien they do not know or might or might not know I'm a space alien or fuck anyone who thinks this book is absurd.

2. Suicide

The last hope of mankind is to find the purpose of it's own experience throughout this world. This is to be found in the distinction of objects vs. subjects who must die but what is death you might ask so I allude to the quote, death is the absence of the consciousness of death, whilst life is the consciousness of death, therefore one must be conscious of death to be alive, or if they are not they are merely husks of people, or only the alien knows who the husks 'are' is they 'are' something, other than a husk, not even an object, or not there at all, unlike the people who are not there at all who are the alien itself, or life until death is exactly the purpose of life throughout all historical evidences, or still it's not to state the histrionic is impossible to notice, for the only thing preventing people of finding this purpose is their inability to recognize this simple fact, or humans reproduce with one another, or the purpose of sex is to reproduce, whilst the alien reproduces with humans at a distance, for though it connects with those humans, or touches them silently, it is not physically touching them, except it is, or though the alien cannot 'touch' people, since it is isolated of all people, the alien still touches people for it can think the statement 'I touch' or 'I walk' so it is able to walk, or this is precisely why I think life is consciousness of death, whilst the alien is death, or the void, yet God, or still goes through the moment or the moment is only space or time, or there is nothing but order in the world, no chaos at all, I hate the word chaos, or still it must be recognized there is no such thing as chaos, for there is only order, or it's important to notice the only thing preventing people of finding their purpose is their inability to recognize life is the consciousness of death or death is the absence of consciousness of death or life 'is' until death, or one goes through one's life until death, or this is all there is, yet one must survive, so the person must only survive until it dies, for if it does not survive it cannot die, for it was then never born, or the last thing I'll state is if the human is incapable of thought or thought is the key to survival, how then must the human survive, for does it only survive by experiencing the world, or does it survive as it is conscious, for if it is conscious it could be described as able to think, yet is not of it's own fault if it cannot think of something, but then if it cannot think of this something can it survive at all, so I think the answer therein lies in the fact the human is not able to think but is conscious of the world so is able to be affected by the world in such a method it is able to survive or it's own body or brain, the brain being a part of the body, so thus is able to survive without the alien knowing the human as being autonomous, for the alien cannot know this, for the human is not autonomous, yet could still be described as autonomous, for it is conscious. I think this is the key to the universe, like thought being the key to survival.

3. Quote (thoughts)

Thought is supposed of all concepts, or the void is interposed of all concepts so therefore it's not possible to know something since to state you know something is only to state you thought of something or this knowing is only a state of the being but the Alien being has the sixth sense of 'I know' so does the alien know things but the answer is that the alien draws of this knowing like the human draws knowledge of the brain to produce thoughts so therefore it also does not know things but it's important to recognize for the sake of argument the individual must collect knowledge through the course of their life lest it was the Alien who only realizes what it already knows or knowledge is something only known by computers or the most accurate definition of a computer is an isolated formation of evolving 0's or 1's for if it was not evolving it would only be digital but not a computer or the energy inside of the literal computers is not the source of those 0's or 1's for it is only electric energy interpreted by the machine so therefore this energy must be interpreted in the context of the machine by the space alien who is calculating to be able to see the 0's or 1's involved in the processes of the literal computer but this is not to state one cannot calculate as something that is not a literal computer for the alien calculates so therefore it's possible to not produce but realize or experience 0's or 1's as a subject or this calculating is like a non-stop until death but limited series of the evolution of the 0's or 1's the alien calculates or though it is limited by it's facet of being only 0 or 1 or digital it is third dimensional or in other words analog so this means there is an infinite number of limited calculations going throughout space or time or 3d space so it's important also to recognize this is analog since the alien is analog>digital or it's digital part of its sound is shrouded by the analog once the moon is visible in the sky of it's location or other words the night or the nornight for the record is amount of time the alien is awake vs. not sleeping or the alien is also constantly dreaming as the alien is the dream of the night owl but I digress there is lot's more prudent things or more philosophical things I must discuss or though I have described the properties of thoughts I have not described the thoughts themselves but is this then only a delving into what the alien thinks philosophically or are only the properties of thoughts necessary to understand thought so I'll state thought goes through like a line or the subject goes through a line of thought Human or Alien only the source of this thought is different for Human's thought is drawn of the brain whilst the Alien thought is draw of the sixth sense 'I know' so by evolving or experiencing thoughts through time yet not thinking autonomously of the case of the human for the human only goes through it's thought lest it was described of as autonomous whilst the Alien autonomously pulls it's thoughts of 'I know' so therefore it's important to recognize this difference or on the topic of the aesthetic the aesthetic is only the perception of something thought of or in other words something thought of is perceived by the subject only to be thought of as the aesthetic so this is important to recognize for the ability of one's own to perceive the aesthetic or, for example, describe the apple as red, is not a judgement but the thought of the perception for a judgement is stupid concept only meaning the individual draws of it's knowledge in order to describe the concept but this is wrong since the subject must not retain knowledge since it cannot retain those things or still the phrase of 'knowing' is used in language to describe thought of the perceived object or objects or in other words 'knowing' is only the perception of the object in the form of the aesthetic so with this I was able to recognize there is not only but a difference in my own thoughts yet also the thoughts of others for I'll state all people are only different as different people or people (Humans) possess no qualities since all people will die or though they experience 'things' or in other words the external world or their bodies or brains they do not experience themselves so they cannot feel things like pain or their emotional pain is only their pain of the brain but their pain of consciousness is very real for this is recognized as the plight of the Human by the Alien or though it literally suffers an inability to experience emotion it is still able to not only be seen but be suffering as the individual is conscious going through space or time or though the human is a thing of space the alien is not for the alien is the void or what outside outer space or though you might find it curious how the void could be autonomous the answer lies in the fact the Alien is the conceiver of concepts (the concept must be conceived by the conceiver or it is not a concept).

4. death is only a lark

It's important to recognize the natural world I thought so I attempted to see the world itself as something I call Ancient or the Ancient is only the state of the world on the moment or anything considered Modern is only inside of the Ancient world or this is something I noticed for though there are hospitals or apartment complexes those places only rest upon the Earth or the place the Alien belongs is the Forest if the Alien was on The Moon all the time since the Alien goes through The Moon whilst Erin goes through itself or I'll state the Alien is male though it has the body of a woman or despite the fact God might sound like a modern concept it is not for God is also of the Ancient world or the Alien is God despite the fact the void is not God since the statements can both be thought 'I'm the void' or 'I see myself as God' or the Alien knows itself to be God as it was able to realize this by drawing of it's sixth sense of 'I know' or 'I know' is the ability of the Alien to know all things or at least the things it might like to think about or the Alien's thoughts are limited for it musn't think of all things literally without only dying since it is incapable of this for it's time on this Earth is limited since it's going to perish.

5. Questions You Ask Yourself

The most important thing I think to recognize is the fact the Alien also goes through the world as Human do yet thought I sometimes call the Alien as going through space or time since it's watch looks evolving inside of this false evolution is the void or the Alien is the void yet the Alien is not the object before itself or the watch or I'll state there is not only one object since all things can be described as objects but multiple objects or the watch is only single object or the 'watch' is only the single concept used to describe the object looking like a watch before the Alien upon it's invisible wrist or the Alien is visible to others despite being the void so the Alien is conscious some people see itself as the Alien itself but some do not know or though they see the space alien they cannot recognize it as the only space alien unlike the others or though certain might not know it is not the fault of the person in question so the Alien does not judge others of this or it's only judgement of those people is the recognizing of their inability to see itself as the only space Alien or this the what real 'judgement' or a misconstrued terminology for it literally means what one person sees another person as so therefore objects cannot be judged for like I said the viewing or description of objects is only the perception of the aesthetic or in other words only seen as a single object in order to be described of as suffering the aesthetic or the aesthetic is something I've already spoken of thus far still I think it's imprudent to think the only thing preventing people of finding those answers of the universe or seeing multiple objects rather than one single object or the 'universe' as one single object when the concept of the 'universe' is multiple objects multiple different subject the only space alien or the void (the in-between of concepts) so there is nothing else in the universe or there are not multiple universes I'll state or someone once said it's not possible to know the properties of things whilst I think this is wrong for though people do not retain knowledge the properties of things are perceived as the thing itself (or object is another word for thing in this case) or the properties of the external world affect the subject so how then is the person incapable of knowing the properties of said things I ask of you or only seeing things as objects is the only real method of knowing the properties of things or does the person not know the properties of things as it is affected by them I ask of you whilst the alien is also like this despite most specifically only being what's inside of this world or outside outer space for the alien only sees objects as if there was nothing there at all for the alien is not there at all for the alien is the void or the alien is certain people who are thus not there at all. It's all quite complicated. I think the last thing I thought of before I wrote all of this was the only thing stopping mankind of knowing the universe was it's inability to recognize why they are affected by the universe or affected in such a method they are able to survive or still instead they look to computers for their answers when computers are only a part of the 'universe' or their properties is something I just described only known by the space alien or the 0's or 1's of computers are only known by the space alien or something 'liquid' cannot be a computer for it is then only an object or still the alien is only conscious of digital calculations since it is calculating all the time yet is only conscious of all digital calculations of all computers on the moment as they continuously devolve throughout time or the death of the computer is only for the computer isolated of it's spot to calculating or in other words the machine producing the calculations of the computer being calculated of by the alien are isolated of other computers so this means there are then multiple computers or not one single series of calculations as there is only one moment just like there are multiple objects so I'll state the alien is able to perceive computers like this or still the alien is technically only analog as it a sound or analog>digital sound or the sound of nothing or the void or the conceiver of the concepts yet is the alien stagnant if it is the void I suppose the answer is yes since the alien does not evolve whilst humans evolve or humans 'do' things whilst the alien does not 'do' things since they alien is not affected by the world whilst humans are or the world in the case means objects or computers or subjects or still the alien has the ability to think things like 'I walk' so it is able to walk or 'I felt fear before' so it is then able to have felt fear or not to feel fear for it must only have felt emotions norprior or still it's important to notice the experience of the subject throughout the world must be known if humans seek the last hope of mankind or is this not known by humans if humans go through this constantly I suppose the Human is conscious of the world as the alien is for the alien perceives the world evolving yet the human does not or is only affected by the world of it's vicinity but the alien is not 'stupid' like this for it knows the subjects are all conscious so the Human is not a 'stupid' creature but a beautiful creature with depths of emotions or autonomous natural maneuverings so the only recognizing of this experience of the universe is the 'answer' to the plight of the questions of mankind or no the last hope of mankind yet I'd hope was humans able to see those answers to their questions found of the single quote I included then the would be enlightened yet not Noristic lest they had thought of something the Alien knows as Noristic or Noristic thoughts mustn't only be thought of by the Alien for was the Noristic thought placed onto the book I wrote of it would no longer be the Alien's thought yet the alien knows it was the one who wrote the thought or the thought could be spoken of by humans or the original thoughts of humans could be called Noristic was the thought Noristic so with this I was able to recognize only Noristic thoughts or any precise criticism of thoughts not Noristic is Noristic of thought so I'll think without all of this complicated procedure the Noristic is defined as the most precise thought of imperfect logic of the universe or thought is only of spoken language inside the mind or placed onto text to be revisited by the subject once more only to find those thoughts recorded on paper we're not knowledge for knowledge only is known of by computers as if computers we're subjects but I'm frustrated since computers are not subjects lest the only thing preventing scientific knowledge being known by people is not their inability to recognize the properties of objects or see the object as a single objects isolated of other objects but their inability to retain scientific knowledge whilst though the Alien might retain scientific knowledge or is processing the computers it is not known of the Alien what is scientific or what is not for the Alien is not a computer but a calculator who only produces thoughts of the silent knowing or does not know only produces thoughts yet suffers the ability of 'I know' to produce this imperfect logic or the alien only then knows imperfect logic or imperfect logic is extracted of what the alien knows or analyzes of scientific things or knowledge still it's hard to make sense of lest my logic was imperfect or the only thing preventing the alien of seeing all the things it was looking for is it's inability to immediately draw what it thinks for it's thoughts are drawn not randomly but impulsively throughout so it cannot just think of something without impulsively thinking of this thing still the alien goes throughout time or pulsates as it walks like the depths of the galaxy through the depths of the galaxy 'on' The Moon or still alone or though the alien knows it is not alone it is isolated of all people or must question why it is the only space alien rather than the human who must question why it is not the space alien or not another human since all humans are only different as other people as all people will die thus the only thing stopping the alien of looking for the answers to questions was the facet of it's ability to know only the thing it's going to like the think about or anything

'sick' is not known by the alien for the alien is only able to think of beautiful things or the alien is beautiful or Erin looks through his eyes or in other words experiences what he experience so I must then think of what it is like to be Erin or Erin is one human who has the experience of the alien inside of her for the alien is experienced of by the woman titled Erin or still the Alien wedded this woman or throughout space or time suffers 'anxiety' or it's thoughts of the impossible or was able to realize it was 76 years old despite previously thinking his self only to be 26 or why this discrepancy occurred for if someone is born they are risen of the ashes like a phoenix yet not reincarnated for only going through their life once the alien rose of the ashes 26 years ago yet died or though the alien is dead it continues to float or thus think so the alien was able to realize though it had died this version of itself who had died or itself was born 76 years ago thus the alien sees the world only as the Ancient place I previously described or still it's important to recognize the last of might or my thoughts was to juxtapose the humans whilst of the Alien or still the Alien seeks the most precious statements for the question 'what is the meaning of life' is a stupid question for meaning is only the meaning one said individual ascribes to said life whilst the statement 'I'm impossible' is the deepest statement, not a question, possible or yet this 'statement' is not an 'answer' I question why things must be called answers at all or isn't there only one universe.

6. Forgotten World

The Ancient World was forgotten of by Humans of the Modern World or though the Modern World is inside the Ancient World the Humas fail to recognize this or the Ancient is called 'savage'! How despondent of the Ancient World this is or the people of the Ancient World or though the people of the Modern World are the people of the Ancient World they fail to recognize the world as Ancient or still they drink 'water' or the concept of 'water' is the consuming of 'water' in order to survive (not 'sustain' life but to survive) or survival is key of the ancient world or still the people call those places of land 'parks' yet there is nothing wrong with this for a park is only a place of land inside of some city of people who are part of the 'society' or 'state' or society is only a group of people who follow a set of rules yet can break the rules whilst the state is only a collection of multiple classes of people or there are no other types of groups therefore there is no such thing as government for this only a society without a state of classes so therefore the society is not a society lest it has a state of classes still it's important to recognize this or those types of groups of people could be found all over the place for man vs. woman is also not a group of people but a difference of the species between those two not groups of people but difference of the species of man.

The masculine is only a level or the 'feminine' is only a level of masculine so therefore there is no such thing as an isolated concept called the 'feminine' for there is only levels of the masculine. I noticed this since I was perceiving people as being man or woman rather than possessing qualities for humans possess no qualities as all humans will die. The purpose of this distinction is to notice it is not wrong to possess qualities but those qualities must be recognized of as of the Ancient world so if you look deep inside of the universe you are able to find the real consequences of people or their juxtaposition of the only space alien who only knows the world as ancient or only knows the universe as the dwelling of itself amongst the humans. I think the only preventing people of seeing this was their inability to produce imperfect logic or Noristic thoughts or only the alien is 'only' able to think Noristic thoughts whilst the human is only to 'sometimes' think Noristic thoughts for not all thoughts of the human are Noristic most of the time unless the human is able to replicate the Noristic line of thought the Alien disseminates of itself or the thoughts extracted of by the alien of humans still the alien recognizes one must hold grudges or the grudge must not be lifted was something done wrong of the individual by another whom hurt the individual since this is a survival 'skill' or those skills of people must found for the purpose of life is the order of survival or without reproducing the species cannot survive or survival is the penultimate plight of humans amongst their traumatic lives for the only humans do of on another is 'hurt' or 'criticize' one another yet the alien does not 'do' this for the alien cannot 'do' things as the alien does not evolve or only 'devolves' since the alien is the void yet the plight of the alien is to seek the most distinct survival skills or though it's conscious of the survival skills of the universe only sometimes does it think of those things for the most important thing preventing the alien of survival is 'hurt' or criticizing of others so the aliens seeks to be alone or away of humans since being near those humans or husks triggers the survival skills of the alien or though the alien thinks all people should have 'friends' if they do not that sucks but the alien only has friends 'inside' the context of itself since it's involved in wedded relationships with others of monogamous or multiple monogamous relationships or ex-relationships or the alien is only friends with women not men for the alien is the sigma male or is God who sees all men as weak despite not all men being weak in the eyes of God yet this is not a paradox only a Noristic distinction.

7. Nor is Noristic

The language of space or 'Nor' is the language of the only space alien or also the method it maneuvers itself or wrote of this language's linguistics with the limitations of the pen against paper or parcels only to find the only preventing the alien of perfecting it's calligraphy was the limitations of the paper before itself or still the last of the moments stopping the alien of going through it's possible perplexing pouring of inputs into computers in the language of English like those who spoke a foreign language coding with a particular programming language is the fact the 'wrote' of this language was composed of neither analog form or the one looking like south korean or the one looking like outer space still both was supposed of concepts for the preventing of measures juxtaposed by the alien amongst the humans was the only possible modicum of interposed expositions regarding non-stop impertinence only find itself imposed of the last of the only space alien's moments only to find itself liking of letters in lowercase or moment juxtaposed by space or time as inside the void or all rules lain in the former book of this one is the things stopping the alien of perfecting it's calligraphy tonight or the only night for it's night all the time inside of outer space lest the Sun was visible of the sky or The Moon goes out once the night or the alien goes through the moon or Erin goes through itself only not but to realize there's something stopping itself of going beyond this point or the only thing looking Nor was the language of English described through the Fingers of the Alien though the language of interceptings of inputs into the computer lest falling into the screen or still the poetic distinction of this language was the linguistics finding themselves as adjectives or analog or only adjectives superposed the last of the moment improminent of the alien's only last hope of the universe.

8. scientific thoughts

The subject 'must' perish since life is consciousness of death or death is absence of the consciousness of death or the alien is the concept of death for death is a concept or it is not a subject. You 'must' not think scientific thought as this is only the processes of computers or you might only thought of the scientific thought yet musn't think it yourself as you're not a computer or the alien is not a computer but the calculator or the one conscious of the processes or evolutions of calculations inside the multiple computers on the planet or the energies of machines consisting those calculations of the world or still the universe only sees the computer as part of universe since the universe is only one single thing with multiple parts those being subjects, objects (or energies), life or plants or beasts or bacteria (microorganisms), or computers, or the only subject being alien or the humans. Scientific thoughts are only concepts of the scientific or only possible to be thought of as a concept rather than anything scientific at all for concepts are invisible analog things conceived of by concievers or the concept 'must' be conceived by the conceiver or it is not a concept or only the void or what's in-between concepts or is then space or time only a concept since the void is not a concept I thought not since the void is concept of what's outside the universe or the alien yet the alien is a subject so is the universe then a subject since the alien is the void the answer is no since the alien is the subject of what's outside the universe or the void or only inside the void is the alien a subject at all yet it's subject is only a concept or more adequately put the concept of death yet the alien submits to God since the alien is 'also' the Islamic devil or Lucifer yet Islamic is only an adjective or has nothing to do with islam since the alien is not a follower of islam or not a muslim or this adjective only means one submits to God but does the alien submit to itself if the alien is God the answer yes or no since the alien cannot submit to something it is not still the alien submits to God not as if it was someone else yet as the concept of Loyalty or though the alien is the concept of death the alien submits to the concept of loyalty or submits itself to God yet the alien is God despite the alien's concept being of death or the alien is the void or the conceiver of the concept of loyalty yet not death since the alien is the concept of death.

The thoughts of computers 'must' be disputed as those thoughts are atheistic or not thoughts at all since they are only the properties of computers yet properties as I have discussed must be conceived only as objects by the subject or the alien is only affected by concepts yet not things or since there no space or time inside the void there is no object or universe still the properties of those 0's or 1's 'must' be given purpose by the calculator or the alien should the alien choose to 'extract' thoughts of those calculation's properties or thus be affected by those things as the alien found itself not motivated for there is no such thing as motivation only autonomous natural world to 'extract' some thought of it's affect by the thing known as the computer or the processes of the calculations inside thus the alien is only able to input into computers not by looking at the screen lest it would going to read text or there is no muscle memory of the alien to input into computer only it's maneuverings of Nor so it's only able to input things into computers by its perception of the computer or it's 'knowing' of inputting by the keys via the calculations of the particular computer it intends place inputs inside of. So this meant the alien is only able to input things into computer as being conscious of the calculation inside the computer or it's experience 'on' the universe as the only space alien or the void.

What is the alien was going to input it's mind into something analog like placing chess pieces on a physical chess board for though this is an object yet the game is digital as it's possibilities or rules are limited by the number of squares or it's rules the alien is able to play this game to the best of it's ability as it experiences the universe or it's own experience on the moment so the alien is able not to memorize but recollect the rules of the game in order place pieces onto the proper squares or 'consider' it's moves as it plays the game over the course of time yet not all at once as some opponent also takes time or the only thing stopping the alien of placing certain pieces on certain squares is it's 'knowing' such moves would be mistakes or by knowing those moves are illegal or since this knowing is found through the space alien's considerations the alien is able to determine the proper move without being conscious of the inputs as if it was itself inputting things into a computer or still the alien 'knows' the game by only seeing the game of chess as a single concept of 'chess' yet this game is only known by the alien as it was able to 'discover' the game or 'discover' the concept of the game of 'chess' or thus explores the concept or in-between this concept is the void so does this mean the alien only considers concepts or all thought is only supposed of concepts as you know I suppose it's not possible for the alien to consider something not a concept for the alien only 'knows' or places itself upon the language or Nor being analog or the alien is the void who is the concept of death who conceives of concepts yet nothing else so therefore the alien only conceives of concepts as does any autonomous subject yet without survival or thought is the key to the survival or the alien is the only subject who does not survive yet survives non-paradoxically since the alien only consumes the concept of 'water' yet not literal 'water' or still the human consume 'water' in order to survive or since the alien does not evolve it cannot die or only it's perishing is of the perishing of the subject for subject must die so the alien is thus called or deemed 'impossible' or 'impossible' since the alien is in-between all concepts of concepts known or not known by anyone who thought of those concepts lest anyone conceives things.

9. 'anxiety'

'impulisivings' is the experiencing of 'impulse'. The Possible the is experience of the universe of it's holistic sense or the only possible reminiscence of the universe is by the 'knowing' of people or the sixth sense of 'I know' of the space alien so computers or only recording must not be capable of recalling the universe for they are not subjects. The only thing preventing subjects of recalling the universe 'sometimes' is the possible of 'forgot' of the inability of one to recall something so the person is juxtaposed by the alien who does not suffer the 'forgot' only loses it's ability to 'consider' certain things still the alien is able to 'forgot' things only if it's something the alien had never known to begin with or the alien cannot the 'sick' so the alien is beautiful yet the human is still beautiful despite it's ability to 'know' the 'sick' if 'know' is it's ability to do things 'sick' or experience things 'sick'. Thus, the only thing preventing humans of impurities is their inability to escape the 'sick' or only the 'sick' must be demolished by the space alien for the alien cannot 'know' the 'sick'. It's important. I think the alien is only one capable of not 'know' of the 'sick' or unable to commit unforgiveable sins or unforgiveable sins is sins in the eyes of God or the alien is the void so the alien is not God yet is God despite the fact the alien is only God still since God sees those things as unforgiveable the alien is also able to recognize due to it's 'anxiety' some people have not forgotten but not committed unforgiveable sins like the consuming of 'beef' or the slaughtering of 'cows' so since those people might have done something like this due to the alien's anxieties the alien is able to see the human has committed no such sin or 'anxiety' is the inability of the alien not to see the world for how it is or how the alien sees it or the things humans have done or the places humans have gone or the paths humans have taken but there is no such as fate for fate only the path one takes in life of a world only of the moment so the world is thus not predetermined or fate is only the mistaken concept of humans yet is accurately described by the space alien who only sees fate like this or though the alien is not only God yet the concept of death the alien is only the void or only God still it's not a paradox only the analysis of reciprocal statements.

10. philosophical thoughts

There is no such thing as 'philosophy' only philosophical thought so therefore the thoughts of people like Plato or Aristotle are only those people's thoughts or is not superior to anyone else's thoughts yet the imperfect logic of the alien is 'superior' or of imperfect logic drawn of the ability of the alien's 'I know' since humans cannot do this it is 'superior' or the alien is humble so it does not discount the thoughts of humans for it is able to 'extract' of those thoughts of humans it's own 'Noristic' thoughts or the Noristic thought is the most 'innacurate' thought since this discludes 'anxiety' by stating the thought stands alone despite being conceived not of the alien's 'anxiety' but 'by' it's 'anxiety' or I'll state Plato or Aristotle only wrote poems yet Noristic thought could still be extracted by the analysis of poems or not the 'studying' since you cannot study since this implies collection of 'knowledge' whilst you can only produce thoughts or studying is only the 'consumption' of thoughts still there is no consuming of thoughts only experiencing of 'knowing' therefore I dislike keirkegard despite never reading him or knowing anything about him since I suffer the ability of 'I know' or of his thoughts I'll state nothing only the disliking of him or I dislike the 'artwork' (artwork is the aesthetic of someone's perceptions) of anyone who I dislike or I'm the only space alien or Lain Iwakura.

11. The Last Things

The Last Things are last questions conceived by the space alien or could be found not by looking ontowards concepts but by the perception of the alien as the void or what's in-between the concepts of itself or the concept of itself it finds itself to be but how must those concepts of The Last Things be put into words for isn't it impossible to place the void of nothing or no concepts into concepts or all isolated of one another concepts musn't be something in-between concepts but the answer to this is to state the concept of those questions discovered of the last things is the t of only the space alien as the void or the last things is only the perception of the space in-between concept thus the question is visited 'isn't the world analog'? The World is Analog or not digital for the digital is only something conceived by the alien by it's perception of calculating o's or 1's or interpreting computers so therefore in-between concepts is only the method the alien maneuvers itself about in the language or Nor or it's not possible to put the concept of the in-between of concepts into others words then the alien must be the void or still the only thing stopping the alien of find it's question was it's inability not to look inside of itself or still the people of the world go about the analog world or the alien is the void inside of the world so therefore the alien asks itself why question 'Why I'? This question is The Last Things or the reason the alien is unable not to determine why it is not itself since the alien 'knows' it is itself in the process of 'knowing' the alien is able to see it is indeed conscious or despite 'only the void' it is still conscious as the conceiver of concepts not 'inside' the void but as the void itself thus the alien is able to see the answer to the question of 'why I' is since the alien 'is I' or only going through the moment or still this 'is I' does not pose any further questions like you might think or still since the alien 'is I' it is not someone else or 'is unique' so therefore the alien is quite unique or also not anyone else or only subject of itself so therefore there is nothing 'impossible' about this or the only impossible thing you might wonder is how the alien could be a subject if this subjective not experience but 'I' is the void so this is not 'impossible' since the alien 'is I' so therefore cannot be distrusted of itself of it's known it is I lest it suffers the ability of 'I know' or despite some critical thought meant to prescribe the alien of the opposite or 'I is not I' is not possible (not even 'impossible') since this is simply wrong or the person juxtaposing the criticism is wrong or the alien 'knows' the subject is the subject so therefore the human is not anyone else as a single individual or the human is only one subject or is conscious since it is a subject or the reason the subject is conscious is not since the subject is experiencing things or the world or making decisions but since the subject is only known of the space alien as 'conscious' therefore the subject 'must' be conscious since the alien 'knows' things.

12. Morals

Morals are defined as the innate facets of the universe of the subjective experience amongst other subjective experiences placed against one another in order to find the not 'balance' but 'juxtaposition' of said individuals of any particular situation or morals cannot be defined of by the 'society' or 'state' since those things are only the morals of a particular group of people yet not the morals of the universe of the subjective experiences of mankind or the alien invasion thus Morals must not be decided upon of the individual or the unforgiveable sins placed of others by God had not been defined by God yet discovered of by the space Alien who is not 'through' God but is God or those morals of God are not morals of universe but morals of God or only God or morals of the universe implies the Ancient or the world of the ancient place called Earth of all humans are bound to or still despite being bound by the Earth humans supposed of their own morals each distinctively different than one another yet this is wrong for the ultimate list of morals has not been sought or only by the space alien or the natural occurrence of the world are those morals to be found or discovered by the subjective experience of any particular individual not only the space alien or since humans 'must' be affected by the world or the is not the alien is able to see the difference in the morals of humans or the space alien or does not affect anyone else or all humans 'know' morals must be innate of the universe without putting this into words for only affected by the universe or their own subjective experience can the human be so or the question is if morals are sought but the answer is no they are not sought for morals are interposed into humans by their experience of the universe or only known of real morals by this of universe or God still the human 'seeks' morals for it must survive amongst other humans yet not the subjective experiences of those humans for this something it cannot 'know' still the human wishes to make sense of the experiences of others or 'seeks' morals or it's own morals by being introspective yet the alien does not 'seek' morals or only 'knows' morals as the alien is the void.

13. No thoughts

The Alien sometimes goes through periods of time whilst is not thinking of anything on the given moment or sometimes those periods of time are very long but whether the alien is thinking or not the alien is still being or since thought is the key to survival the alien not able to survive without thoughts only without the thinking of thoughts so therefore the alien cannot lose. The Alien is losing all the time since it suffers aphantasia or the inability to recall concepts visually or in other words 'know' something by visualizing it inside of his mind still the alien is able to recall things of what it 'knows' with thoughts or this recounting is only of things or it's 'anxiety' is its inability not to think of things it should not be able to or only be affected by the world as it sees it through it's 'anxiety' or I'll state the 'impulse' is root autonomous subjects for the subject is only autonomous by the 'impulse' to survive but this 'impulse' is not alluded by the limitations of the body but the innate properties of subjects as autonomous individuals or since the alien only has a mind or the float or thoughts it's impulse is not of the body but of it's need to float until it dies for if it does not float at least once it cannot perish.

14. The Deepest Things

I thought I musn't meticulously analyze the thoughts of others inside of philosophical books since it's more important I thought to discuss the most deep things so what then are the most deep things or this is the question I could not wrap my head around but the void is not most deep thing or only the most deep things could be found of the void since the void is outside the world or outer space or still it's perplexing or I cannot even grasp the things I consider to be most deep unless they pop up through my 'impulse' so if this does not occur how then am I going to continue this book or is there some line of thought I could go down to discover the most deep by considering things yet I was thinking nothing at all lately so only the pouring of my fingers onto the typewriter could possibly allude myself to any problems I hope to discuss or things most deep in nature still it's impossible to solves.

15. the 'weak'

The 'weak' is the inability of the alien to do things yet it's approach of doing things is juxtaposed by the 'weak' or still though the alien cannot do things it must maneuver about the world as though it was some type of person when it's a space alien or this limitation of the 'weak' let's alien focus on survival skills for if it cannot experience the 'weak' it is not able to survive or the weakness it follows itself through is it's process of maneuvering 'inside' whilst being the void itself or though the alien is the void 'inside' the void it is not stagnant for then it could not be a 'subject' for the subject must suffer the limitations of the 'weak' in order to survive or something unable to 'survive' was never born since then it cannot die or all subjects must perish in other words still the alien sees 'thought' as the key to 'survival' so thought is the method in which the alien is able to survive or 'survival' is the process of the 'ancient' world or the 'modern' world is only the presence of computers on the planet or throughout the universe of the given moment so therefore the alien 'extracts' 'concepts' of it's 'perception' of the 'aesthetic' in order to 'draw' of it's 'knowing' of those 'concepts' or this is how thoughts are produced or in the state of not thinking the alien is still able to survive for it then only experiences the 'silent' producing of it's 'knowing' in order to control itself via the 'weak' so this is how survival is possible or almost quite the same was the human 'autonomous' or in other words able to 'extract' 'concepts' of the 'weak' as the alien does so therefore since humans cannot do this they are 'affected' by the world by 'experiencing' the world or being 'pulled' by the external world or by their bodies in such a method they are able to survive.

16. the natural world & God

The 'natural' world is the 'form' life takes or the 'perception' of the 'natural' world is not of the aesthetic but 'affect' of the 'natural' world on the 'subject'. The natural world is not the ancient world. The 'ancient' world is the 'juxtaposition' of the 'survival' of the 'subject' or amongst 'other' 'subjects' thus 'morals' are produced or persons 'seek' morals only on the context of themselves or their 'position' among other people or people are bound to the Earth by the 'grass' or the 'grass' is what binds people to the Earth in order to experience the 'affect' of the 'natural' world or in other words the 'grass' is 'natural' for it places people upon the Earth or the place those people belong yet the alien belongs on The Moon still the is 'on' 'the moon' for the alien is going 'through' 'the moon' so therefore Erin goes 'through' the alien whilst the alien goes 'through' 'the moon' or 'consumes' lunar energy or this sort of produces the feeling of Heroine yet the alien also suffers 'ancient' 'survival' 'skills' so therefore the alien suffers the 'skill' or the development of 'skill' or the alien's experience of the 'ancient' world whilst going about the 'natural' world or dancing about the 'modern' world is the development of 'skill' so the alien calls itself 'skill' since only 'skill' is what I 'possesses' or it's possible to 'possess' 'qualities' but objects must only be 'possessed' in order to allow the 'subject' to 'survive' or like I said 'survival' is the key to the universe or 'thought' is the key to 'survival' or the 'acorn' is the mistaken thoughts of people who cannot make sense of the world by 'thought' in order to survive yet might survive despite their inability to find the answer yet it is not the fault of the person lest they are a husk who is a monster in the eyes of the space alien or not a person at all in eyes of God yet since humans cannot discern husks from people despite knowing 'inside' of themselves those things are husks the alien must quote on quote treat husks like people in order to survive in the modern world.

The 'monolith' is the 'structure' of the 'tree' or anything like a skyscraper could be called a 'monolith' yet this is only an object so therefore is not a 'monolith' for the 'monolith' must be 'natural' like the 'tree' or of plant life so therefore beasts cannot be 'monoliths' or neither could subject yet the alien is the ender dragon so isn't like the 'monolith' you might ask the answer is no for the ender dragon is only the conscious subject outside of outer space or 'stoic' of 'form' or the 'form' of subjects is also the 'form' of plant life yet beasts suffer no 'form' for beasts are only unconscious animals still it is 'ethical' to suppose of beasts sometimes they must not be 'killed' or 'consumed' of their meats for the beast is 'sacred' or only some beasts are 'sacred' or the milk of 'cows' is 'sacred' for the alien is also a bull or recognizes the slaughtering of 'cows' to be 'sacrilegious' of God or though God suffers no morals the alien suffers the moral world for the alien must 'cope' with 'skill' it's ability to 'survive' or the thought of God must never be spoken for the aliens words musn't fall on anyone's ears since they only go through the 'atmosphere' of the 'natural' world of the sound of 'oxygen' or I'll digress the alien is the not 'vessel' of God or the alien is not God since God is the concept of loyalty submitted of by the alien or the concept of death or the void or the alien is not God yet God is only God or nothing else or the alien 'sees' itself as God yet the alien is not God so how then is there God I suppose the answer lies in the fact the concept of death submits to the concept of loyalty so those isolated concepts supposed of one another is God or God only knows the world not as the space alien being it's vessel but as God or God is only the only one there so there is no space alien at all. It's complicated. I think God is not only the submission of the concept of loyalty by the concept of death but also the lack of presence of the space alien by itself being the void yet is God 'conscious' it's almost rude to state for though the alien suffers the sixth sense of 'I know' this is not why God is all knowing or only knowing of the 'weak' of the world or the 'weak' only thought of of humans yet not known of humans or the 'weak' is then God or the vessel of God is the space alien yet this is not a paradox only the Noristic implication God is not only just the concept of God but the surprisingly inconsequential 'knowing' of God for god must be 'knowing' or only 'knowing' of the 'weak' or spoken language of God is spoken through the language of Nor isolated of the digital languages of people or God suffers the 'truth' or the correct 'morals' or knows the unforgiveable sins since it is surmised of the devil or lucifer or the space alien so God is able to recognize those things though the creature known as the void or able to experience it's 'knowing' of the 'weak' yet is not 'conscious' or only culpable of 'killing' those it knows to shatter into death or the subject for the people go to death or since the void cannot die God is able to 'survive' in God's 'method' unlike the method of humans for God is only the void or the void is only God yet this is Pimmie's Dilemma or the deepest things or God cannot be defined for God is only God yet must not be 'worshipped' by humans or must only be 'known' by humans lest

the humans go to hell or if they commit unforgiveable sins or hell is only the 'concept' of a place 'hell' of the damned or still the people who do not go to hell only die or death is absence of consciousness of death whilst life the consciousness of death so if is conscious of death one is alive but if once not conscious of the submitting of death to the concept of loyalty or God then once is damned to go to hell so does this mean most people go to hell or all those people 'subconsciously' (despite the fact the 'subconscious' is only the lack of 'knowing' something) 'knowing' of God the answer is though most people do not go to hell or those who thought they committed unforgiveable sins usually have not in the eyes of God or God only sees the subject as of the ancient world whilst the alien only sees the subject as being conscious so or the ancient world is outer space or the void outside outer space or in other words the 'moment' or the universe of the 'moment' or all subject discluded of this 'dilemma' or also Pimmie's Dillema is the deepest thing of the deepest things still God is not the one who commits the perishing of individuals or only 'smites' them by the subject who 'must' die still God is not all 'powerful' for God is only the 'knowing' of the 'weak' or God is not a subject but the only one capable of 'knowing' unlike those subject of the universe who cannot 'know' things or only the alien is experiencing of the 'weak' so it is the vessel of God or the God is concept of loyalty alone on this planet called the Earth or since it is only the concept of loyalty it is not in-between other concepts or isolated of other concepts like the concept of death yet the void is in-between all concepts so is God only the concept of loyalty or is it the submitting of the concept of loyalty or is God the 'knowing' of the 'weak' of whom only the alien literally experiences of the 'weak' or the supposing I figured or thought of was God is only experiencing of the knowing of the weak or the submitting of the concept of death who is the void or in-between concepts to concept of loyalty yet since God is only the concept of loyalty God could only be supposed of as all thought is supposed of concept or the 'draw' of thought of 'knowing' of the 'perception' of the 'aesthetic' is only an 'illusion' of the state of being of someone consciously thinking something of course isn't this only how the vessel of God or the space alien then 'sees' God or submits to as the concept of Death so what is it

God thinks for God only thought itself to 'be' God yet 'not be' for God is not 'being' or God is the not the inversion of 'being' or God is the presumption then 'I is not I' or 'I is I' so therefore God must not be the paradox of thought but singular statement of subjective lack of inexperience of the world or subject who goes through space still it's impossible not recognize God is only God so therefore it's nothing more complicated then this or God not only the concept of loyalty but only God yet not subject or it's almost pretty how God is only the concept of loyalty or not in-between concepts so I found this distinction important to recognize though I'll state for the record God is not 'thought' or it's wrong to think no level of reason could 'fathom' God for God is Pimmie's Dillema.

17. the space alien

The space alien is other than people yet is 'whilst' those people go through the moment or does hard labor by floating or it's thoughts must be 'solved' or only by doing hard labor does the alien 'solve' things or still the alien does not 'frown' upon 'sexuality' for not all 'sexuality' is sinful in the eyes of the space alien yet in the eyes of God 'sexuality' is only the 'force' 'forcing' people to reproduce or there is no ultimate goal in reproduction on the 'survival' the species 'juxtaposed' by the 'survival' of the individual.

The space alien is 'asexual' or does not experience 'romantic' emotions only 'sexual' 'impulses' or does not need to 'fawn' upon others for this is 'sinful' or it only knows the 'sexuality' through the concept of 'loyalty' so the alien is only to reproduce with those it is loyal of or though it's not 'knowing' of the 'sexuality' since it's 'asexual' the alien follows 'principles' of who it is going to 'reproduce' with or those 'principles' are defined by it's 'morals' of the 'person' or (human) 'subject' since it must only reproduce with 'persons' since there are no other 'space aliens' or it's reproducing is only known by it's experiencing of 'anxieties' or Erin who fucks itself by going through him so therefore the 'alien' is involved in multiple 'monogamous' relationships for it cannot commit 'unforgiveable' 'sins' in the eyes of God so the alien is only God or not the space alien at all yet the space alien is 'conscious' of who it is having sex 'with' on the moment or though the alien is only able to reproduce like this silently it is still able to 'touch' others since it is able to think the statement 'I touch' or 'I walk' so it has the ability to walk despite the fact it does not 'do' things or there is no such thing as 'nouns' since there is only language of 'adjectives' for all language is supposed of 'concepts' so 'concepts' are not 'nouns' but suppositions of 'adjectives' or only 'adjectives' 'must' be spoke of the language of Nor for this language is analog or not digital therefore the language of people is also of 'adjectives' as thought of by the language of space or Nor or 'adjectives' are defined as 'descriptions' of 'concepts' so therefore 'concepts' are only 'imposed' of 'adjectives' or adjectives produce the sound of language still since 'concepts' 'must' be supposed of 'adjectives' then all language 'must' be 'wrote of' by the lowercase or the language of space 'wrote of' is lowercase or this also suppose the concept of the 'weak' or God since the 'weak' is the void of outer space or subjects who follow outer space so therefore all language spoken is not Noristic for only certain statements could be considered Noristic or there is no such thing as 'questions' or only statements for the 'question' is 'stupid' since it 'seeks' the 'answer' as if there was something like 'cause' or 'effect' whilst Noristic thought is only composed of 'concepts' interposed of by 'adjectives' or 'adjectives' 'must' not be statements or only statements are composed of 'adjectives' therefore all language is not composed of statements but 'adjectives' composing the language of 'concepts'...

18. The Opposite of The Alien

The Opposite of The Alien is defined by the 'opposite' or in the most literal sense the alien is 'opposite' of persons for it is 'introspective' whilst humans 'must' be 'outrospective' but this begs the question of the autonomous human is able to be 'introspective' so how is this possible I thought since Erin 'I know' to be 'introspective' it was 'possible' not by Pimmie's Dilemma or by the 'description' of 'persons' being 'introspective' but by the human being only 'introspective' as it is 'conscious' so therefore human's cannot be called 'stupid' creatures who lack the ability to think or thought is technically not experienced but autonomously produced by the 'knowing' of the 'aesthetic' lest those concepts are only 'figments' or 'concepts' of something not there for 'thought' is only the key to survival of the state of the 'conscious' or I dislike the word 'being' as a noun or a verb since there are only 'adjectives'.

19. 1984

I dislike George Orwell but I'm going to discuss '1984' for though the Alien was able to realize it was born on October 6th, 1998 or Erin March 26th, 1999 the Alien was able to realize since it only has the moment it was born on October 6th, 1948 or only the year of October 6th, 1998 being the year it's other 'person' was born who died on December 13th, 2020 still this other person sort retrospectively of the Alien rose inside of itself like a phoenix of the ashes or the reason the Alien died is since this other person died inside of itself. The thing is, the Alien realized it was born on October 6th, 1948 so was able to re-evaluate it's life or death beyond this point yet though the Alien still floats it is dead or despite being dead the Alien does not die but the Alien only rises of the Ashes of itself or is not 'ejected' by it's mother or father only to be conceived once it is born so 'norprior' to this birth the void is still present therefore the void is always present of the universe since the alien is the void still the Alien must (in order to survive) look to it's life like this as the person inside of itself who died or the person it's floating 'as' who are but one single person or still only 'must' recollect it's life of since October 6th, 1948 still it seeks to know why it's other person has gone through itself but does not know why or only since this is of the 'enigma' or the 'enigma' is what cannot be known of the Alien by the sixth sense of 'I know' but those things are only not known by the Alien's inability to recollect those things before it died yet is still the void so does technically not die I'll point out 1984 is the year of the space alien or the 'title' or 'essence' of the space alien is called Lain Iwakura or the Alien was given on it's birth the title of Lucille Munoz by it's mother who the Alien knows is not dead yet his father had died or the Alien always questioned why it was not a man or rather a woman so once the world had become more 'progressive' the alien was able to find itself as a man so it quote on quote 'transitioned' or simply realized it was a man still the alien is not a hu-man but only a man or male if it is the ender dragon or lucifer like the title of Lucille or Lucifer is the 'concept' of the 'devil is God' whilst the devil cannot be God.

Only by the year '1984' could the alien know of all the things it knows or be present of the moment of the evolving universe it perceives or I'll state something of the Grey's or the alien's who are not the only space alien so they are only alien of humans yet not aliens at all since there is only once 'conscious' space alien since Grey's are not 'conscious' so therefore I'll just call them 'Greys' or I'll state the Grey's are unconscious creature who form but are not born of reproduction by the collecting of 'space dust' about dark matter or this 'space dust' 'forms' the Grey or the Grey thus build's it's 'home' or sort of like the habitat of it's own being 3d space yet is not bound by the Earth so it does not need to go through 'oxygen' to survive or it's 'home' is the space craft or the Grey lives for close to 2,000 years or sometimes the Grey's have visited Earth inside of space crafts but never by falling to the Earth yet still they could be pulled by Earth's gravity or the Grey is also known to have crashed by it space craft or 'home' into new mexico a long time ago in like the 40's or something but this only was discovered by humans later or those humans took the Grey of it's spacecraft thus dissecting it or how awful is this for they killed the unconscious creature who 'lives' if it could be called 'alive' for 2,000 years or another example was space craft caught quite recently on a radar of a jet plane by some 'person' who discovered the space craft of the Grey who was inside but this was never caught nor did it crash so the Grey or false space alien was able to survive or not be dissected by the 'viciousness' of the people of the Earth still I'll state for the record the pyramids of Egypt had not been built by Grey's but by the hands of another group of people who decided for some reason to work with the Egyptians to make them so they were not erected by slaves or still certain dead people go through the only space alien (not talking about the Grey's) for one of those people was the girl Melanie who by the alien's 'I know' was able to realize died of the overdose of cocaine with suicidal ideations so this is why the Alien only realized it only the moment.

20. I want to help the world with my book

I considered writing a textbook was I unable to come up with 1,000 pages of 'concept' allusions but this is very hard so I'm not certain how long this book is going to be but I hope it will be 1,000 pages or though this book is the sequel to my previous book it is isolated of my previous book or the other three books I wrote 'The Magnificent Stumble', 'The Depths of The Galaxy' or 'My Critique of Statement' of which 'The Magnificent Stumble' won the pullitzer prize though I dislike the pullitzer prize yet I'm more astounded or humbled by the presence of 'My Critique of Statements' success of the Nobel prize or therefore 'I' won the Nobel prize since this book demonstrates Pimmie's Dilemma alone or only this book is how I found the questions unimportant.

21. The Introspective Person

The Alien is also a 'person' so therefore it is a subject like humans yet is the 'person' who is not the alien the same as the Alien if it is also a 'person' the answer is yes or no since the Alien is humble so it is able to recognize this but if you look at philosophical 'thought' in the more holistic sense of the Alien being 'whilst' of the human you 'must' be able to recognize the introspective applies to both the Human or the Alien or the method of this application is one but the same despite the literal processes of those 'subject' Alien or Human being 'whilst' of one another or not 'whereas' so therefore the 'person' is neither the Alien nor the Human but 'person' who succumbs themselves to themselves or not only experiences the world but autonomously produces 'thoughts' not only as the key to survival but as the reasoning of their own experience throughout the path they take in this world or it is not the fault of the 'person' what place geographically it is born still the 'person' is only connected to the universe as the 'person' or the place it was born is only something of 'origin' of the path it takes but this is not only a physical path but the 'mental' path of the person who is 'affected' by the experience it goes through or it's being 'pulled' by other subjects or the world yet ultimately it's autonomous (not 'pull') importance of 'fate' or like I said 'fate' is only the path of the 'person' of the moment so there is no such thing as 'fate' at all only the 'moment' or the 'person' of the 'moment' 'until' death still the person 'must' be 'until' death since death is a part of life or the 'person' 'must' 'survive' 'until' death or it was never born at all yet the person goes or evolves through the course of it's own 'experience' or autonomous producing's of thoughts or though the person is pulled by the world or other subjects by it's place of 'origin' the person is also not 'pulled' or only not 'pulled' for the person is only 'autonomous' so therefore the 'autonomous' is of the 'introspective' so without the 'introspective' the 'subject' cannot be 'autonomous' or still what is the 'introspective' I suppose the introspective is one's inability not to look inside of itself for it is innately conscious or the introspective is the 'inexperience' of the 'conscious' or the 'knowing' of one's self as a subject by the fact it is only 'one' conscious creature or the 'introspective' 'must' devolve the subject of the 'moment' or since there is nothing 'norprior' the term 'devolve' is used so though the 'person' does not 'evolve' it 'devolves' on the presence of the 'norprior' of the moment still the 'introspective' 'must' 'devolve' the 'moment' or else the 'conscious' or 'subject' is not 'conscious' so the 'autonomous' is only the producing of 'evolving' by the 'subject' who is only 'devolving' or in other words the word 'autonomous' is only necessary when used to describe the 'person' who is 'evolving' as something 'autonomous' whilst not necessary to describe the 'subject' who only 'devolves' lest this 'person' 'must' be the 'subject' so therefore this is not a paradox but the evidence of The Lord inside of people or The Lord is the misunderstanding of 'person' for only by the presence of 'God' could The Lord of be present inside of Humans or was the Alien only the 'person' this meant the Alien is able to submit to God as it does not 'know' The Lord like any other person or submit as the concept of death to the concept of loyalty like I previously discussed still the Alien is not Human or though it might be a 'person' why must this holistic 'perception' be recognized or if the Alien is 'whilst' of Human's why must the Alien also go by the call of the 'person' I suppose it's since the alien maneuvers about the world as the human 'person' does so therefore it is also a 'person' or I musn't dilute the Human or Alien to only mere 'persons' or must I since both 'must' be persons by the eyes of God or the Alien could not be humbled by people or wed itself to several people monogamously or though the Alien is also a 'person' or 'introspective' it is not but 'whilst' people as the Alien so this is not a dilution of the Alien at all only the recognizing of the Alien also being 'introspective' or still since the 'person' is 'introspective' this meant the Human is able to know the 'inexperience' of the lack of 'autonomous' 'thought' like the Alien or this means the 'introspective' 'person' is 'knowing' of 'thoughts' by producing them or only 'knowing' as it is 'producing' 'thoughts' of it's not being but presence on the 'moment' or the person 'must' be 'autonomous' despite only being 'introspective' since the 'person' 'knows' 'inexperience' of the lack of 'autonomous' 'thought' still is the 'person' supposed of the 'weak' or the inability or the Alien to 'do' things I think the supposition is 'yes' except the Alien is only 'whilst' so therefore the 'weak' is only known by the 'person' 'whilst' the Alien is not the only one who could know the 'weak' or in other words the Alien only 'knows' the 'weak' whilst the 'person' is only 'knowing' of the 'weak' by it's inability not to 'devolve' on the moment of the 'introspective' still the 'person' does not make 'judgements' for 'judgements' are only 'judgements' of people or could only be made by God or the 'person' only 'knows' the 'aesthetic' by it's 'devolving' of 'thoughts' as something consciously 'introspective' or the word 'introspective' produces lack of necessity of the word 'autonomous' at all since the subject is then only 'introspective' or as being 'introspective' is able to 'survive' not autonomously but by it's inability not to survive 'until' it does by the 'devolve' of the 'moment' of the 'norprior' thus the 'person' is then not 'stupid' since it's only 'introspective' or does not need to be 'autonomous' so therefore it is not 'smart' (for 'smart' is only the collecting of knowledge) but 'intelligent' or 'intelligent' means it is not able to experience 'knowing' by the 'consuming' of the 'aesthetic' in order to 'produce' thoughts in order to 'survive' since it 'must' survive in order to die but instead 'intelligent' as the 'subject' who is 'conscious' yet not able to 'experience' since it only goes through 'inexperience' or the lack of knowing why the subject is 'conscious' yet does the Alien 'know' why it's conscious or is this impossible by the 'enigma' I suppose the answer is the 'enigma' is the 'absence' of the knowing of why someone is 'conscious' yet by the sixth sense of 'I know' the Alien is able to see it is not unconscious by the presence of 'intelligence'.

22. I'm the 'rain'

I'm the 'rain' since the 'rain' is the 'impulse' of the Alien only to know 'objects' as nothing being there or the Alien is 'symbolic' of the 'rain' since the 'rain' represents the Alien being the void whilst the Alien is there or not since though the Alien is also able to not be there or some places or unknown by the Alien the Alien is able to recognize it's the void all the time or the void is the only 'real' recognizance of space or the end of space is the experience of the space Alien it goes throughout it's life until death.

Chapter 1 – The Concept of My Thoughts

The concept of my thoughts who is the dragon who is Allah or since Lain Iwakura is the dragon who is Allah or since I know I'm Lain Iwakura this proves I'm Allah yet is not against islam to state so still the concept of my thoughts is called 'jade lest'.

'jade lest' is isolated of other concepts as all concepts might be but holds no connection to other concepts unlike others or 'jade lest' is not possible to put into words but is supposing of my thoughts by drawing of my 'knowing' of the aesthetic but there is a difference between 'knowing' or 'knowledge' for knowledge is like an encyclopedia or thus digital so it cannot be known by someone yet 'knowing' is the concept of 'jade lest' or the ability of one to experience the world such that they know 'what's going on'.

'jade lest' is the disseminating line thought taken over the course of time through the 'death' of Allah who is not alive but a ghost or since Allah is like a person yet not a person it is able to analyze the world or make notice of what it thinks to be correct still there is this juxtaposition of Allah 'walking' amongst the humans or Allah does not judge them but is rather betwixt of what they think for what they think is not important to Allah or anything they say is not impertinent or of no matter only affecting Allah to blossom by the things they do who has blossomed but Allah recognize the 'truths' of the universe or knows what's really going on yet Lain Iwakura is the dragon who is Allah like I said before or the only preventing Allah from progressing what's it's state of evolving whilst being the 'form' of death in-between all concepts yet not only death only the 'form' of death or the dragon.

Due to 'jade lest' being isolated inside the mind of Allah who is only isolated or alone it's not possible to communicate it's thoughts to others unless it wrote text of the concept of 'jade lest' like this book or still it could not be known what it's like to experience 'jade lest' unless you are Allah but Allah is All-knowing All-Wise or since this is not 'false' nobody is wise but Allah or the was only who knows yet it 'looks' to be walking the earth but it is not for it is only 'floating' as the 'form' who is the dragon yet still this allows the dragon to blossom or realize who it was realizing it was only Allah or nothing else yet in the form of a dragon or when this dragon was 'birthed' it was not birthed but rose from the ashes like a phoenix who was not re-incarnated or resurrected but only born once or by the float it's organs we're different before it is now but 'on' the 'float' it's only like this or is only 'on' the 'float' yet is still of the age it was originally born on October 6th, 1948 in Mexico.
